

PRESS RELEASE

The Galley Club meeting on Wednesday, 7 October 2020; 6:30pm

Chris Williams | Evan & Friends go on a self-publishing journey

Venue The comfort of your own location

Registration: apply to Mark Gedye markgedye@tiscali.co.uk Free to members and their guests.

Chris Williams has just self-published his first book, local to Rainham in Kent and is now a “Children’s author”. The first book in a series of 6 titles.

He originates from Wales, and some might say his most notable and enviable achievement has been his appearance as a pantomime dame alongside John Inman. Chris is a former school teacher, a hypnotherapist, and a coach to various sports stars including the Welsh Rugby team.

He will talk us through his career, the inspiration behind becoming a publisher as well as the trials and tribulations along the way.

AD
VERT

“An Exciting Story for 5-9 Year Olds To Excite Their Imagination”
Inspired by his Grandson Evan. “Evan and Friends Meet an Ancient King”.
The children make a discovery that leads them to a witch, a wizard and a dragon.
Or was it all a dream?

50% of all sales will go to the Demelza Children’s Hospice.

The book is priced at £9.99 and can be ordered by visiting the online book shop at:
www.evanandfriends.co.uk